To The Voters:

I wish to express my thanks to the voters of Lafayette County for my re-election to the office of Presiding Judge. I am grateful for this expression of confidence. I am grateful for this opportunity to serve. I am grateful that this end has been attained in such a way that I shall be able in the future as in the past to listen with the courtesy of an open mind to the representatives to every man who comes before the court, but to act in the last instance according to my own judgment and conscience only. I am told that some republicans, both white and black, voted for me. I am grateful to these—just as grateful as to the men of my own party, if their motive for this action was confidence in my personal and official integrity or a desire to rebuke the activities of a small bunch of disappointed gorillas in my own party who cannot distinguish between the obligations of official duty and personal favor.

It would be idle to deny that a great many democrats failed to vote for me in this election. The tabulated returns show it. Against them I feel no resentment or unfriendliness in the world. They have done nothing worse than yield to the infirmity of credulousness. But upon the few active purveyors of every form of falsehood, who have gone about the country peddling absurd and inconsistent tales to suit the ears of every quarter, I should like to impress this lesson of the returns—How stupid, cowardly, and ineffective a liar is!

With gratefulness to my personal friends and to the general public for the expression of their confidence and with an earnest desire to serve the best interests of the country, so far as they pertain to this office, I am,

Faithfully
ZACH W. WRIGHT.

Congressman C. W. Hamlin and his secretary, Sam Neale, of Sweet Springs, spent Tuesday in Lexington greeting friends and acquaintances.

Deputy County Clerk.

Dr. Bates has announced that his son, Hubert, will be the Deputy County Clerk. This appointment will meet with the hearty approval of every voter in the county. Hubert has every qualification for the duties of this clerkship. The office, as heretofore, will be in good hands, which is a matter of congratulations to the people of Lafayette county.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to extend to the Democratic voters, as well as to many voters of other political parties, my grateful thanks for their loyal support at the general election, on November 8rd.

I truly appreciate this mark of trust and I hope that by faithful service, as the County Clerk for all the people, to show that your confidence has not been misplaced.

Thankfully yours,
GEORGE W. BATES.

Central Lecture Course.

The second number of the Central College Lecture Course will be given in Murrell Auditorium, Monday evening, November 23, at 8:20 p. m. The Cavaliers presenting songs and ballads of the Elizabethan period, will be the attraction.

The company is made up of seven artists carefully selected from the choicest in the League, and altogether it is one of the biggest successes sent out under the Redpath management this season. Singing is a feature of their work. Instruments used are the violin, cello and flute.

Dr. and Mrs. Z. M. Williams were At Home Tuesday evening to a large number of town and college friends. The large rooms were beautifully decorated with late autumn flowers and foliage and formed a most suitable setting for the genuine hospitality always found in Dr. and Mrs. Williams' home. A number of out of town friends were present, and the varied topics of conversation heard during the evening and their animated discussion made the evening pass quickly.

Very abundant and delicious refreshments were served. Misses Yates, Catron, Malone and Fetty of Central assisted in the dining room.

Brought Here for Burial.

The remains of Mrs. T. J. Fletcher, who died in Sedalia Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, was brought here yesterday morning. The body was taken from the train to the cemetery, where she was laid to rest. Mrs. Fletcher was born and reared in Lexington, and was a sister of W. H. Whittlesey of this city.

Slusher-Shull.

Mr. Edgar A. Slusher and Miss Grace H. Shull were married Wednesday evening at four o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Godfrey Shull, seven miles south of Lexington. Rev. S. O. Hall, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

Both the bride and groom are members of old established families of Lafayette county, and enjoy to a remarkable degree the confidence and esteem of a wide circle of friends and acquaintance.

They left on the evening train for Kansas City, where they will spend a brief honeymoon and then return to Lexington.

A frame shack on the old brick yard hill near the water tower was badly damaged by fire yesterday morning about 8:30 o'clock.

The government indicator yesterday morning indicated that the air was 8 degrees above.

My, didn't the coal bin look low yesterday morning?

What have you done with your summer's mages?

A good big platter of pork sausage with buckwheat cakes on the side, looked mighty good yesterday morning?

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.

It is not my purpose to induce any of my customers to buy at this time except for the very good reason that I believe that lumber is cheaper now than it will be in 60 or 90 days, or even next year. Prices have reached the bottom. The fact of the business is that the three cheapest things in the world today are, life in Europe, cotton down South, and lumber in this territory.

The last two weeks give every evidence of a revival of business, the loosening up of the money market, and a general change for better conditions from now on. Those who contemplate building in the next 60 or 90 days should lay their plans to do so while lumber is cheap. We shall be glad to figure with you on your wants.

Expression Recital at Central College.

A recital by seven pupils in Expression at Murrell Hall Monday night proved highly entertaining and reflected much credit upon Miss Metcalf and her method of instruction.

The program was well arranged and included a variety of subjects, each of which was exceptionally well handled. Miss Audley Stites in the difficult opening position acquitted herself admirably; while Miss Orpha Anderson excellently portrayed her characters in the closing number. The individual work of the other young ladies can be commended for excellent enunciation, natural expression, faultless memory and general technical ability.

The program follows:

Lady Teazle and Sir Peter Richard Brinsley Sheridan
..... AUDLEY STITES.
The Story of Patsy Kate Douglas Wiggin
..... ANNE WISDOM
The Child Wife Charles Dickens
..... MARION BELT.

Football.

The football game Saturday between the Kemper 2nd team and the Wentworth 2nd team promises to be one of the most interesting games of the season. The game will be played in Lexington on the Academy campus. Game will be called at 3 o'clock, and the admission will be 25 cents.

On Thanksgiving Wentworth's first team goes to Boonville. A special train has been secured and all those desiring to make the trip see Sanford Sellers, Jr. The cost for the round trip will be $3.12.

W. M. A. 98; Buckner 3.

In the sprinting match Monday between the Cadets and Buckner, the cadets finished first in every event—except one, then Buckner made three by the aerial route. While the cadets were considerably fatigued after the races, they were in a very happy mood and physically fit to do the same thing to Kemper.

Notice.

Ladies of the Dover Baptist Church will serve an Oyster Supper Saturday night, November 21st.

MULTILATING A BANK ACCOUNT

Is not the way to get rich. Of course, if you have money to burn, it probably makes little difference when, where or how often you have to buy Lumber and Building Material.

But if you are one of those shrewd, level-headed buyers who have to get the most and the best for your money every time you spend it, you will be interested in our stock and prices.

Let's get together. If it's your business to buy right it's just as much our business to sell right, and if we can't suit you in both quality and price on Building Material, nobody can.
